Senior Class Prophecy

Carol Lamy can now take 500 words a minute in shorthand. Now all she has to do is find a dictator who can keep up with her.

George Benham has at last found a way to defy laws of chemistry by converting H_2O into C_2H_5OH.

Joan Carrow and Dave Foster are co-starring in the latest smash movie, "Dracula meets Frankenstein at U-Mass."

Judie Champagne and Joyce Killay have returned to L. H. S. and are teaching home economics.

Anita Coffey has at last fulfilled her greatest ambition; she has replaced Alvin as one of the chipmunks.

Anthony Chulada holds the world's weight-lifting championship

Eddie Conrad invented a substance to keep cigarette scent out of clothing.

Bill Cronin has replaced Jack Paar and always has such great stars as Marilyn Monroe, Jayne Mansfield, and Sophia Loren. Strangely enough, Bill says he'll never walk out on a show.

Bill Cromely has gone to the south sea islands and is photographing the native girls for "National Geographic Magazine"

Penny Dalton has attended a language school and can now say "Ya" in four different languages.

Mary Delamater went to court on a charge of tax evasion, but was acquitted. Seems there was a mistake, and she doesn't really live in Westford after all.

Edna Dow has become the first woman ever to play "pro" basketball.

Dave Frost has become the private coach for the first girl "pro" basketball player in U. S. History.

Terry Fencer has become a religious leader, preaching that "Blessed are they who run around in circles, for they shall be known as big wheels."

David Flagg won the $64, 000 question in spelling.

Jim Luchessi and Tony Pacy have opened "The World's Largest Pizzeria."

Andrew Landini is now the basketball coach at Shirley Industrial School.

Karen McNamara is married and has three lovely girls. She says that they cannot go steady until they are at least seniors in high school.

Richard Pearce, having graduated from Tufts and having pursued graduate study at M.I.T., Harvard, and Yale, is now the most educated check-out boy at Donelan's Super Market.

Janet Rakip is now on tour of the world, which fact goes to show that there are advantages in being senior class treasurer.

Marie Riconscente is working as a waitress at "The World's Largest Pizzeria."

Nancy Sammarco's hair is still black, but at the age of 72, it hardly seems natural.

Judy Smiley is now the owner of a certain ice cream place in Littleton. For some strange reason, the swimming pool has been replaced by a gymnasium.

Jim Smith is writing an investigation column for the "New York Times!" As a sideline, he is conducting a ballet school.

Gail Spinney has given up her idea of being an airline hostess because she was told that the only openings were on ICBM's.

Sue Tyler entered the Miss America contest as "Miss Greenwich Village."

John Theodoros is now in an insane asylum. It seems that on his last day at college, he came across a math problem he couldn't do. It drove him crazy.

John Valentine is the chairman of the school committee at L.H.S. Strangely enough, the "no smoking rule" has been abolished.

Phyllis Valentine and Dottie Dimitruk are now wrestling as a tag team.

Kevin Gallagher has started Littleton's first motor scooter club, to give the Piston Poppers some competition.

Virginia Hager has reached the height of horsemanship by being the first woman to enter the Bengal Lancers.

April Jenkins has taken speech lessons for several years with great success; they finally found her voice.

James Knox was a missionary to Africa. We heard that the cannibals liked him.

David Banks is now the 20th century "Don Juan."

Mickey Chulada has written "A Yelling Failure," the sequel to the senior class play. He plans to make a comeback as grampa Pennywate.

Richie Guerra has vetoed so many ideas for the prophecy that we left him out.

SUPERLATIVES

We are roaming the hallowed halls of L. H. S. searching for 60's superlatives seniors. Here we go....

"Like man, it's way out," bellows to , Class of 60's "most talkative" characters.

Here stand and who were voted the "most popular" seniors signing autographs for and , the "best all-around" students we've ever met.

In the corner of the student center, and are arguing the relative merits of Shakespeare and Shaw in a "most sophisticated" manner.

In the gym we find and practicing their foul shots for the oncoming game. L. H. S. will always remember these two "most athletic" students.

Here sit and in the library filling out application forms for the colleges of their choice. We wish the best of luck to these two "most likely to succeed" seniors.

If we look closely behind that large stack of beloved textbooks, we see and laboriously pouring over their physics assignments. Mr. Lindquist, no doubt, will congratulate them for being his "most studious" students.

We peek into Mrs. Ferry's homeroom during seventh period study hall. Into the room bounds after who is wielding 's cap pistol. These "class clowns" never fail to keep the seniors entertained.

Faithfully studying her shorthand is and , having finished filling out his applications, is now attacking his trig. We hear that these two were voted "the shyest."

As Mr. Ferry upholds law and order in the adjoining exalted senior homeroom, we hear and  battling over Terry's non-payment of class dues. Janet, who is class treasurer, seems to be having a rough time of it. "Just keep calm, cool, and collected" should be the motto for our "class hotheads."

Investigating further, we attend a class dance. looks ravishing tonight, and is impeccable, as usual. They certainly are entitled to the appellation "best dressed."

It's no wonder was selected "class flirt." Look at that boy operate! His female counterpart, is fluttering her eyelashes again. Watch out men; it's leap year!

Before we leave we must find out who have been chosen the "best dancers." Aha! It's that fellow again and Did someone say she is a professional dancer? They're cuttin' a rug tonight all right.

Our roaming finished, we look forward to the future.

Journalism

Journalism Club

The Journalism Club was responsible this year for the school paper, "The Voice of L. H. S.," and for Littleton High School's contributions to the LOWELL SUN. Both of these projects have been carried out successfully by the members of the club and the staff.

The editor is Joyce Killay; assistant editor, Steven Willett; and sports editor, Kenneth Marcus.

The club extends special thanks to Mrs. Ferry and Mr. Mungan for their valuable help during the past year.

Senior Sophomore Freshmen Play Casts

The second annual one-act play contest was held in November under the general direction of Mr. Gardner. The plays presented were as follows: "The Trysting Place" by Booth Tarkington; "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne; "Drop Dead" by Wilber Braun; and "Shall We Join The Ladies" by James Barrie.

Joan Carrow and Steven Willett were judged to be the best performers.

Has a precedent been set? We as Juniors won the Play Contest. This year the Class of 1961 captured the honor.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

The 1959-60 Boys' Basketball team enjoyed another successful season, even though they gave up several inches in height to every team they played. After losing the first two games of the season, the boys picked up some steam and won four straight. Then, two more setbacks (by Lunenburg and Ayer) gave Coach Silva reason to believe that Littleton needed a new offense.

Once the Tigers put their new offense into action, they won eight straight,including two very important wins over the highly rated Ayer team. These two wins gave Littleton the Eastern Division championship and qualified them to play Lunenburg for the League title.

After winning the first game in a best of three series, Littleton. hampered by the loss of a first-string player, dropped the second game. This made a third and final game necessary. Lunenburg took a 60-58 decision in a hard-fought and well-played game to gain the Wachusett League championship.

Much credit should be given to Coach Silva, who molded a winning team out of a group of "midgets." The support given by the students and faculty, who attended most of the regular season games, was appreciated by the players.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The girls' varsity this year ended up with a record of four wins and four losses. The many games which were battled right down to the final whistle showed proof of the team's good sportsmanship and determination.

Co-Captains, Judy Smiley and Nancy Sammarco, were backed up considerably by Mary Delamater, Karen McNamara, Barbara Munro., Jane Cantino, Karen Slez, Nancy Delamater, Laurel Comeau, Marlene Rush, Dale Hardy, and Lorraine Sullivan.

The All Star representatives were Judy Smiley and Nancy Sammarco.

Miss Leino deserves plaudits for her patience and fine coaching.

Field Hockey

With Miss Martha Leino as coach, the first field hockey team in Littleton High School was started this year.

Under the leadership of sportsmanship and fair play. The members of the team are: Judith Smiley, Linda Chase, Patricia Chulada, Janice Coulter, Susan Dunham, Caroline Fisher, Judith Gernon, Eleanor Gregorie, Dawn Leonard, Alice McCormack, Donna Michaels, Sharon Roshto, Sheila Stoffel, Lorraine Sullivan, Corrine Sweatt, and Julyann Westby.

Baseball

The Littleton High School baseball team, coached by Victor Johnson, enjoyed a fine season in 1959. Despite its inexperience, Littleton finished only one game out of first place in the Eastern Division. The players were: Philip Whynott, John Contini, David Sheldon, William Dunahay, John Lojko, William Harland, Robert Rheaume, Richard Pearce, James Lucchesi, Anthony Pacy, Carl Stoddard, John Theodoros, and John Knox.

Soccer

This year a new sport was introduced at Littleton High School. Soccer, a game played extensively throughout Europe, was begun here last fall. Coach Lindquist was quite enthusiastic about the group that turned out. Although their record was less then .500, they enjoyed themselves and gained a wealth of experience, With most of the boys returning next year, we look forward to a team which will present a threat to the rest of the league.
